

The Contractors Pollution Liability/Professional Policy is a combined Pollution and Professional Liability form. It provides coverage to general contractors, construction managers, and various trade contractors who could potentially have both pollution and professional claims.

Why is CPL/Professional important?

Contractors face pollution and professional liability issues from construction management services, job site modifications, and other daily activities.

These professional exposures are generally excluded from General Liability and monoline Contractors Pollution Liability policies.

Coverage costs are reasonable and Beacon Hill provides excellent service during and after the binding process.
